

Visit Website . . . at www.precisionwoodproducts.com, especially pages for Helping You Sell, Getting Started, and Customer Testimonials.

In addition to the IMS website you are viewing, the website at www.precisionwoodproducts.com for a designer and manufacturer of high-end, custom-made, cabinet doors was conceived, organized, written, designed (including graphics and special features), produced and debugged, and hosted/supported by IMS. It succeeds in two major ways:

1) Provides immediate product info and options to existing customers while minimizing the "non-essential informing and educating time" of company salespeople. This also enables customer service people and customers to operate more productively and efficiently together while maintaining high levels of personal service and satisfaction.

2) Introduces other cabinetmakers, builders, and remodelers to a wide range of elegant, first-class cabinet doors for their client projects. Provides these prospective customers with compelling info and credible evidence as to how this company truly provides exceptional quality, value, and customer support and service along with reliable deliveries. This substantial credibility also helps earn trust and lowers the perceived risk for an initial, trial project . . . that will keep them coming back for more!

Customer Testimonial Page